

Cure of Ars Catholic School

Permission to Publish on the World Wide Web

As part of your child's participation in computer class, classroom work, or an educational project, he/she may have the opportunity to publish documents to the World Wide Web through the Cure of Ars Catholic School website. These documents might include a personal webpage, a story or poem, a graphic, a science or research project, a group photograph, or a collaborative project with other students. This is an exciting opportunity for your student!

Documents and pictures posted on the Internet will not contain: last names (last name initial may be included), telephone numbers, home street addresses or box numbers, birthdates, or objectionable material that points directly or indirectly to offensive material.

No information will be published without your consent. Please initial the items below that should not be published on the Cure of Ars Catholic School website.

- _____ my child's picture with no first name
- _____ my child's picture with first name
- _____ my child's picture in a group with no first name
- _____ my child's picture in a group with first name
- _____ my child's written, programmed, artistic or multimedia work with no first name
- _____ my child's written, programmed, artistic or multimedia work with first name
- _____ other condition _____

All documents will be approved by teacher or authorized personnel before publishing. Documents must adhere to school guidelines, policies, and ethical, Christian behavior.

I do not give permission for _____ (student's name) to publish on the World Wide Web under any condition.

Parent/Guardian Signature _____ Date _____